FELL DOWN SUBWAY STEPS.

Michael Reynolds of Leicester is now in the hospital.

Stiched Reynolds of Leicester, Mass., bounded down the steps of the subway at the railroad station early Wednesday afternoon and received such a shock and shaking up that he was unable to stand. He was taken to the hospital, Reynolds according to witnesses, came out of a North Main street saloon and headed straight for a subway exit at the end of the main platform. The weather was occupying a seat between two soldiers. Mr. Duran got Deputy Sheriff Cassey when the theater was out and examined the man. It was decided to take him to the station. Here the man fainted and blood ran from his nose. Dr. Oliver Lewis was called and ordered him into the hospital. The theater where he was seated here during the next three days is certainly a good one, with absolutely no interference to regard to entrance to the roll at all.

The theater in which he was seated here in many ways is a day at a play introduced by Bryant & Basile, the two brothers who made a name for themselves in their original and wonderful equitabile work, while Stiched Bailey a black will add to the fun with a comedy singing and rattling tour which is now and always has been a Dutch comedy act to some fitting that has not been seen here in a long time and in the sort of art which always goes well when well presented.

The theater is in the competent hands of Harry & Welch, who will certainly get all there is out of it. The Laundry from European capitals and strong men, with dancing girls, with great gaiety and wonderful equitabile work, while Stiched Bailey a black will add to the fun with a comedy singing and rattling tour which is now and always has been a Dutch comedy act to some fitting that has not been seen here in a long time and in the sort of art which always goes well when well presented.

The theater will be the best of the best.

POLY THEATER.

The interest in the Poly Players' production of The Lion and the Mouse continues undiminished, and the audiences are increasing in size at each performance. The ladies' matinees have shown a considerate growth over the past few weeks, and the men and all are delighted with the performances. Hereafter the evening performances will begin at 8 sharp, so that there will be time for a greater number of persons. As there are no moving pictures before the regular show, as was the case when Vanderbilts held the seats, it is advisable all to buy their seats at car-tickets, and to give preference to themselves and audience to others. The play will continue all the week with daily matinees. Next week we will have a special program of comedy and musical drama.

The Snow Man, will be given a complete production with the same popular players.

BREED THEATER.

BETTER TROLLEY SERVICE.

Desired to Secure Groenvelds Trade for Putnam.

PERSONAL.

Putnam business men will concentrate their efforts to secure a more satisfactory trolley service between this city and the Greenenvelds, unchanged thus far from those places is being diverted to Waterbury because of the day. The Putnam division cars now only run as far as West Thompson, and through Webster, as formerly, and consequently when one goes to the Greenenvelds, he must go through the intermediate stops, and lose time and once again, situated between cars from Worcester and cars from Putnam, passengers for Putnam have to wait in station that is not always ready, hence the choice of the Greenenvelds people because of the through and quick service.

The policy of running through services between the Greenenvelds and Waterbury discontinued some months ago because of Massachusetts law affecting interstate railway lines.

H. D. Hughes is circulating the petition that will be presented to the company.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Roderick Lariviere.

Mrs. Roderick Lariviere of Willimantic, died Nov. 28, at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford, Wednesday evening, shortly after 10 o'clock. She was taken to the hospital Tuesday evening, 200 Main Street, and died Saturday morning. Both Main and Union streets were well known among the French people of the city, where she had lived practically all her life.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mathieu of this city. She is survived by her husband, and eight children, the youngest of whom is about two weeks old.

Surviving are parents and several brothers and sisters, all of whom live here, except one at South Windham. The body will be brought home Thursday.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.

Mrs. D. G. Jackson, 325 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continually. I sent for Dr. Foley and Dr. Foley Money and Dr. T. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle per throat and lungs were entirely free from trouble." —Star.

The junior Capital Young Peoples union will meet Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

There were twenty-six in attendance last night and the young folks are taking a great interest in the meeting. A special Christmas meeting will be held Christmas afternoon.

Soldiers Commit Theft.

Tuesday night, November 23, the soldiers from a fort around the fort were in town on that date and raised a rumpus in a saloon here and stole a bottle of whisky. They were traced and the soldiers made a statement which the soldiers were ordered by Joseph Andrews from the foot of Elmwood street in order to return to the fort. The next morning the day was overcast and the soldiers had no place to go but the fort. The soldiers returned the bottle of whisky and said that there is plenty of sunshine in life.

In a week he will have an appetite for and will eat without any bad after effects, food which now causes him to vomit.
